Teachers Description

Dear Students,

My name is Rodolfo Cares. I became an English Teacher back in my country and worked there for a number of years teaching English in high schools and other English colleges. I obtained a Post Diploma in teaching English to adults in Sydney in 1992 and since then I have been teaching English to adult migrants to Australia and lately to international students like you from different countries. I look forward to meeting you and learn with you more about your country, culture and your ambitions in coming to Australia and hope I am able to give you a wonderful English learning experience as well as a sound knowledge about the culture of living in Australia.

Regards

Hi everyone,

My name is Andrea Ngo. I'm passionate about education and have been teaching English in Australia for 4.5 years. I got my Master's Degree in Applied Linguistics and TESOL at Macquarie University. I enjoy creative problem solving, and my time in school has developed my philosophy of valuing individualism, creativity, and student autonomy in learning. They are the goals I always strive for in every lesson and with every cohort of students that I teach. I can't wait to meet you.

Regards

Dear Students,

My name is Chris Harris. Put simply, I still love teaching English after 22 years of being a teacher. I have a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Sydney and a CELTA Teaching Certificate. I have worked at several colleges in that time and I sincerely believe Salisbury College has been the best one. The teachers are all very dedicated and the staff are wonderful. You've made the right choice! My personal motto for students is simple: Have fun learning English and don't think too much!

Regards
